Instructions

This report is confidential and its contents are intended to assist in the prediction of an applicant's work behaviour. Please note that the assessment components included in this solution report are not weighted equally. Some of the components are broad measures of behaviour and some are more narrow. Competencies denoted by an asterisk (*) are measures of narrow behaviours. While these behaviours are important to the overall score, they are not weighted as heavily when compared to other components in this solution. Our research indicates this weighting best predicts job performance. If you would like more information about this report (including scoring) or other products that SHL offers, please contact your account representative.

Relevant experiences

This is a measure of potential for success in an apprentice role based on previous experiences or activities, most likely outside of the workplace, (e.g. school or teams). This is an individual scale and not influenced by scores from the other assessments within this report.

Please note: The Relevant Experiences scale predicts the likelihood that someone will engage in a desired behaviour based on previous experiences or activities. The other behavioural components in this report indicate if the candidate currently engages in those desired behaviours, so it is possible to have a low or high Relevant Experiences score irrelevant of the other scores.

This candidate's score suggests that they may have challenges with experiences that they may encounter in an apprentice role, such as: reflecting on their actions in order to learn from their experiences; how quickly they respond to problem situations; how they make sure they understand the needs of others; and how willing they are to work towards goals.

Listens attentively*

This measures the extent to which the candidate listens patiently and attentively.
