Entry Level Customer Service (Retail and Contact Center)

Instructions

Prepare for the Interview:

In order to conduct an effective interview, appropriate preparation needs to take place. It is important to complete the following before interviewing an applicant:

- Become familiar with the competencies associated with the job and choose one or two questions from each competency to ask the interviewee.
- Review the candidate's application or resume and make note of any issues that you need to follow-up on. Some examples of potential issues are gaps in employment or working at a job for less than a year.

Greeting and Introduction:

Now you are ready to meet the applicant. When greeting the applicant introduce yourself and provide him/her some background information about yourself. Explain the purpose of the interview, for example, 'The purpose of the interview is to determine if there is a match between your interests and qualifications and the position.' Provide the interviewee with a brief overview of the interview structure so that he/she knows what to expect. Here are some tips for structuring the interview:

- Take notes. It will make it easier to evaluate the applicants afterward without forgetting the specific details.
- Tell the applicant that there will be time at the end of the interview for any questions that he/she may have.
- At the end of the interview tell the applicant about the company and the specific job that he/she is applying for.

Ask Competency-based Interview Questions:

Now you are ready to begin asking questions. Begin with questions that you have about the interviewee's application or resume. Ask questions about his/her previous work history or any potential issues that you noticed from the resume. When these are complete, transition into the structured part of the interview by asking questions associated with competencies for the job. Probe the applicant to give you a complete answer by asking Situation, Behavior, Outcome probes.

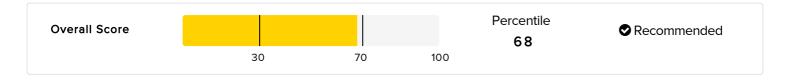

Bring the Interview to a Close:

When all of the questions are asked, you need to close the interview. Give the applicant specific details including the job duties, hours worked, compensation, and information about the company. Sell the position and company to the applicant by emphasizing job fit, sources for job satisfaction, and opportunities for growth. Finally, close the interview by thanking the candidate for his/her time and by giving him/her a timeline for the application process.

Rate the Applicant:

The last step is to evaluate the candidate. Some tips to help you complete a good evaluation are:

- Review your notes.
- Determine ratings for the applicant on each competency as well as an overall rating by using the anchor scales.
- Determine your final recommendation.

Details

	This is a measure of the tendency to show persistent enthusiasm when interacting with customers. This trait
Customer Focus	is characterized by: apologizing sincerely for inconveniences; being patient; tolerating rude customers calmly; and searching for information or products for customers.

Please describe the situation when you most effectively handled a dissatisfied customer.

Situation: What was the situation? How did you find out that the customer was unhappy?

Behavior: How did you respond to the customer?

Outcome: What was the customer's reaction? What has happened with the customer since that situation?

Sometimes people do not understand what we are trying to tell them, so we need to repeat what we said or try to explain it in a different way. Tell me about the most difficult time you have had trying to explain something to someone.

Situation: What were you trying to tell them? What obstacles did you face in your communications?

Behavior: How did you overcome these obstacles?

Outcome: How did the people respond to you? What was the outcome of the situation?

It can be difficult to cope with interruptions and requests for help when you have a lot to do at work. Tell me about a time you were under the most pressure when a customer or coworker asked for your help.

Situation: What was the source of the time pressure? What kind of help did the other person need?

Behavior: What was your response?

Outcome: What happened with this situation?
